Jaber Kamali is a university lecturer at Farhangian and Allameh Tabataba'i University and a PhD candidate of TEFL at Allameh Tabataba'i University. He is also a DELTA holder from Cambridge University and has passed all TKT exams with the highest scores. He has also been a trained agent of Cambridge University since 2017. Moreover, He has been a teacher trainer for almost 7 years and run various workshops on teacher talk, reflection, pronunciation, classroom management, games in language classroom, how to teach IELTS and the like in different institutions and universities. Being a researcher for almost 10 years, he has published number of articles and presented in different conferences worldwide. His fields of interest include teacher education, classroom discourse, strategy training, and interactional competence.